From the Office of the Chair.

Fellow holders,

Fiscal 2036 was a year without surprises, which is what we sell. Revenue grew to $41.2 billion. Households held reached 14.2 million. Churn was 0.00% for the ninth consecutive year, and we no longer forecast it, in the way one does not forecast the floor.

Our newest segment, Presence, grew 64% in its first full year. Four small objects, individually sold, one account. The shelf taught us that a household will accept by the handful what it might question by the system. We consider this our most important commercial finding of the decade, and we intend to apply it broadly.

The Continuity platform now processes more than four billion requests a day, most of them from our own products, an arrangement we find agreeably circular. Institutional adoption continues ahead of plan.

Municipal conversations are ongoing and are not described further in this letter.

People sometimes ask what the corporation intends to do with everything it holds. The honest answer is: keep it. We are not building toward an event. We are building away from one, the ordinary event in which things are lost, forgotten, allowed to lapse, or let go. Every line of this report should be read as a single commitment stated several ways.

Continuity is the product, the dividend, and the plan.

We thank you for holding, and remind you that we do the same.

The portfolio.

Mementi

MM-01

Household memory. Cold storage for everything a person would otherwise lose. Retrieval available on supported plans.

NeuroLace

NL-02

Personal filtration. A worn layer between the world and its wearer's attention. What is filtered is kept.

Cumulus

CU-03

Domestic climate. A cultivated companion cloud for the home, with licensed archival skies by subscription.

The Consumer Shelf

CHM-MTL

Charm, Dew, Glaze, Mutual. Small, covetable, individually sold. Each enrolls its owner in Continuity.

Continuity

CNT-00

The layer a person runs on. One API. Every CSC product is a client. Institutional and municipal tiers available.

EACH BRAND OPERATES INDEPENDENTLY. ALL CUSTOMER DATA IS POOLED FOR YOUR CONVENIENCE.

Risk factors.

The following factors could affect results. Management believes each is adequately held.

ENROLLMENT

Our results depend on continued enrollment. Persons may attempt to discontinue. No person has successfully discontinued. See Retention.

REGULATORY

Frameworks that would constrain the pooling of customer data do not currently exist. Several have been proposed. We wrote them. See Compliance.

COMPETITION

A competitor offering comparable services would require comparable data. The data is pooled with us. Management does not consider this factor material.

MEMORY INTEGRITY

Certain items under management are withheld. Withheld items may become material. They will remain withheld.

KEY PERSONNEL

The corporation does not depend on any individual. Individuals depend on the corporation. Management considers this the intended architecture.

CONTINUITY

An interruption of service would be experienced by affected persons as a gap and backfilled from the pool on restore. No incident has ever been remembered.

Notes to the statement.

NOTE 1 • BASIS OF PREPARATION

This report is prepared on a going-concern basis. The concern is going nowhere.

NOTE 4 • WITHHELD ITEMS

Certain memories under management are classified as withheld. The count of withheld items is itself withheld.

NOTE 7 • THE POOL

All customer data is pooled. The pool is measured at cost, because it was.

NOTE 9 • SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

No events have occurred subsequent to the reporting date. Events subsequent to the reporting date will be reported as having always been intended.
